Welcome to the July edition of the Parish Magazine.

This issue has been edited by Gary Kinsley and myself. He has given us a taster of the Platinum Jubilee Special Edition of the magazine which will be available from mid July. And wasn't that a glorious day—burgers, ice cream and music on the rec and cream teas and the coronation film in the Hall.

This month sees the return of the Car Rally, which promises to be even better than before. Lets hope we have glorious weather again.

The Film Evenings in the Village Hall have also returned. Appledore is waking up from its Covid slumber

All editorial matter for publication in the August magazine should be sent to: appledoremagazine@hotmail.com, NOT LATER THAN THE TWENTIETH OF JULY Please provide copy to our email address, preferably as a Word file attachment.

The Appledore Parish Magazine is produced, printed, collated and delivered by a number of villagers who kindly volunteer to take on these tasks. It is delivered free to every household in the village. This is unusual; the majority of village magazines carry a cover price of 30p or so. It is supported financially by advertisers and by one or two organisations, such as the Parish Council and the Parochial Church Council, which contribute towards the space that they regularly occupy. But it could not continue to exist without donations from private householders who, over the years and on a regular basis, have given us money to keep going. Donations should be sent to: - Parish Magazine Accounts, c/o Brian Knight, Heathland House, Woodchurch Road, Appledore. TN26 2BB. Cheques should be made payable to Appledore Parish Magazine.

A year's advertising (11 magazines) is £25 per 1/6th page. The magazine is delivered to 400 houses and is available to visitors via the Village Shop and church.

Parish Council Update July 2022
(<https://www.appledorekent.org>)
(enquiries.apc@gmail.com)

New Councillors

We would like to welcome Toby Davis and Chester Lusk to the parish council. Although both are in full time employment, they are both prepared to find the time to work for the community and are already actively supporting the council. More information on them is available on the website.

Councillor Vacancy – Helen Hennig

We must thank Helen Hennig for all her time and effort that she has spent working to benefit the community. Helen joined the parish council in June 2015 and threw herself into bringing the public toilets up to scratch making them a very pleasant convenience. At the behest of County Councillor Mick Burgess Helen set up Friends of Appledore Station. Helen regularly brought residents concerns to the parish council which in turn has led to the creation of Friends of Appledore Footpaths. Helen advised that she will continue to work for the community but not as a parish councillor.

Highways Gateways for the Village

Councillor Hiskey will for the moment cover Helen's responsibilities on Highways and Councillor Wilkinson will assist him. At the last meeting the council agreed the final plans for gateways into the village which will consist of a mixture of road surface roundels and picket fence style gateways according what was physically possible and highways approved. The final cost is £8,541.31. We have been advised that Highways may be able to erect these around September this year.

PCSOs

We were fortunate to have one of the local PCSOs attend our last meeting. In future, PCSOs will be attending one in three parish council meetings. Residents were encouraged to continue reporting all incidents no matter the size to the online fault reporting or 101. The number of PCSOs covering the area, continue to fall and the public were asked to bear with the service if the service takes time to get back to them. Neighbourhood Policing will be shortly under review and this may affect the number of PCSOs further. Residents were asked to respond to the public consultation when it comes out later in the year. Just a reminder that all urgent calls should be made to 999.

Appledore Local History Society

Are pleased to announce the launch of our newly updated website

www.appledore.org.uk

The website went live in 2017 and has proven a valuable asset, providing not only information about our village, but a source of communication with people seeking their own personal history in relation to Appledore

Since its inception in 1989, ALHS have gathered so much interesting data for our archives, some of which has been shared on the website for everyone to enjoy

We continue to look for stories and artifacts, so if you have anything which might be of interest, please do get in touch.

Our contact information is on the website, or below for ease of reference

Please do take a look and enjoy our long and historic past through a very current medium.

A WALK ON THE WILD SIDE

On a wet and windy morning recently, I had settled down for a snooze after breakfast, in my usual place on the sofa. Dreaming about chasing my ball when it was announced a walk was on the cards. "Right Brodie here's your harness and collar we're off for a walk". In this weather I thought to myself, are you mad? I so hate getting wet. Anyway we set off, me dragging my paws, making it quite clear that I did not approve. Up the road getting splashed by the traffic, cars racing along much too fast and me dragging on the lead anxious to get this ordeal over and done with. Round the block and hurrah my garden gate is in sight. But we don't stop. Oh no, on she goes. "Come on Brodie its lovely to be out in the fresh air." So I just stop dead in my tracks. That's it, I've had enough, I'm not going any further. And guess what, she relents and the next thing I'm through the front door and getting a rub down, and before you can turn round I'm sitting waiting for my usual reward after the walk which is a biscuit . Oh I don't think so Brodie you can't really call that a walk, but she gives me the biscuit anyway! A couple of hours later it stops raining and the sun comes out We could have waited I thought but no more was said so I settled down for a snooze waiting for the next meal.

A few days later very early one morning, I was just thinking about waking up when it's on with my lead on and we're out of the door. A lovely walk in the early sunshine, no-one around, what's all this about I thought. Well I soon found out as later on it turned out to be quite an exciting day. I was on duty, on my very best behaviour I might add, in a very big tent surrounded by lots of pictures and some of my best friends. "Sit Brodie", and I sat looking like an angel, well a doggy type angel. The more I was praised the more angelic I looked, lapping up all the praises. Finally when the day was done we set off for home ready for a good meal and peace at last you might think. But no, a little while later, it's "Brodie, come on we're going out". For goodness sake I thought, now what, surely its time for a snooze. Up the hill and across the field we tramped and suddenly there in front of us is a huge bonfire in the sky and a lot of loud bangs. Phew, I don't like this at all. But we didn't stay long and were soon back home. I can sleep for England now I thought, and I did.

'Til the next time then, much love Brodie x

GRAPEVINE : JULY 2022

Items for insertion should be sent by the 17th of each month to: applegrapevine@aol.com

Sometimes news goes around like wildfire, other times it is missed altogether. One of those occasions to sadden an entire community has been the passing of our own Les Ramsden. Grapevine writes this on the day of his funeral. A wonderful send off was experienced by the vast attendance of family and friends who all wanted to be there for someone they held so dear. We send Rona and all of Les's family our sincerest condolences and love, and finish with a lovely poem compiled by his 'children' as they recall their childhood –

FARM MEMORIES

Riding in your tractor and picking up bales
Living and working at Old Way
Working hard through all seasons
We three kids were your reasons

Lambing seasons, shearing sheep
Opening/closing gates with wellies on feet
Riding our bikes and making dens
Herding sheep into pens

Rides up the driveway on the land rover wing
Clinging on for dear life, you drove like a mad thing
Out with the dogs and checking the sheep
Or in the workshop tinkering, mending whatever it may be

Picking potatoes in the field with Mum
Cooking and cleaning for the shearers wasn't much fun
Combine harvester was a must
Didn't see Dad for dust

Hard slog in the winter, especially in snow
Digging us out so into Appledore we could go

And did we thank you enough?
Don't think we were very good at all that stuff
So thank you Dad for all you did
With much love from us three kids

It is always difficult to record sad news, and recently we heard that Christine Smith had passed away. Our deepest sympathies go to David.

Some residents of Hawthorn have not been too well lately and we are pleased to hear that Joyce Mummery is now back home, and Daphne Waters is recovering following a spell of illness. We understand that Flo Paige has had a fall, and hope that she is now on the way to a speedy recovery.

Elsewhere in the magazine you will see a plea for donations for the Ancient and Modern Stall which is part of the Flower Festival event over the August Bank Holiday. Please get in touch if you have anything you think would be suitable.

Brian Knight : Tel. 758319

Last month we said we hoped to be able to provide an insight into the life of Kitto Juleff, and we thank his daughter Sharon for providing the following :

“Our father, Kit Juleff, passed away after a short illness on 19 March. Kit had moved to Appledore with our Mum, Mina, in 2003 to be near their daughter, Sharon, and her family. Mum soon became active in the Church and WI and, together, they settled into village life.

When our Mum passed away in 2009, the village put its arms around my Dad and helped him through those difficult times. He grew to love the village and its people and was truly at home there. He was happiest walking down to the village store and chatting to whoever he met - especially if they had young children or dogs! Every November, he would walk through the village, knocking on every door to raise money for the Royal British Legion.

The latter years were difficult. There was the pandemic and our Dad's knee was making movement difficult - he had suffered a serious injury in the Army that came back to haunt him. Once again, his friends in the village rallied around and we cannot thank enough, all of his friends who supported him, especially Helen and Tim, Rhona and Les and so many more.

Kit had a rich life that he could probably not have imagined growing up as one of seven children on a small farm in Cornwall. Facing National Service anyway, he chose to volunteer for the Army as the pay was a bit better. He chose the Life Guards, the senior regiment of the British Army, as he was familiar with horses (the Regiment had, and still does have, a ceremonial role escorting the Monarch in addition to the main armoured role) but also because the recruiting sergeant offered recruits a guinea if they signed up!

In a long and varied career, Kit served as part of the British Army of the Rhine, where the life expectation of tank crews was 24hrs should the Soviets had attacked. Service also took him to Cyprus during the 1963-64 conflict and N Ireland during the Troubles. More pleasant postings included the Trucial Oman States, Aden, Singapore, Uganda, N Ireland and Cyprus again (this time without the risk of being shot at!). He rose to the rank of Squadron Corporal Major (the equivalent of Squadron Sergeant Major in lesser regiments) and thoroughly enjoyed his career. The highlight, however, was the times with the Mounted Squadron in London, working with horses and escorting his beloved Monarch on ceremonial occasions. Not a bad life for a farmer's son from Mithian.

Kit was a tough old soldier who hid, not very well, a big heart. He loved his family, children, dogs and horses, not necessarily in that order. A very proud Cornishman, he became a contented Appledorian and the village was his home.

Thank you again to all those that ensured that our father was supported and surrounded by friendship and love during his time in the village."

Finally – Beware and Stay Alert !!

A car in Heathside was recently burgled with credit cards and money taken. Until now it was never considered a risk to even leave the car unlocked, but sadly the need for a warning to everyone to safeguard your possessions now appears to be highly necessary.
